- In December 2025, S&P upgraded S-Bank's issuer credit rating to 'A-/A-2' from 'BBB+/A-2' and rated the outlook stable.
- S&P expects S-Bank to maintain solid capitalization despite a decline in earnings.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE[1] IN THE NORDICS

CONSUMER CONFIDENCE SHOWING SIGNS OF RECOVERY

COMMENTARY

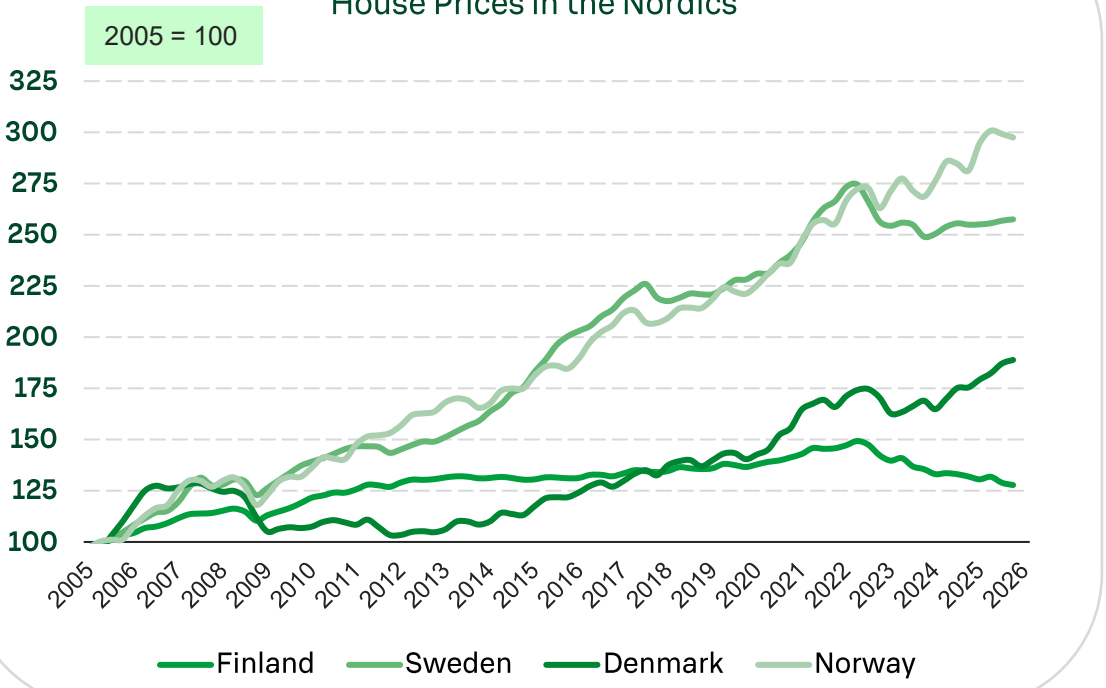

Finland's economy has shown encouraging signs of recovery, as the economy has expanded at a healthy pace for two consecutive quarters and historical statistics have been revised upward. In the first quarter of 2026, GDP grew by 0.9 percent compared with the previous quarter. Growth was broad-based: private consumption showed a long-awaited improvement, while investments and goods exports rose strongly. The Finnish economy has the prerequisites for solid growth, but rising interest rates and uncertainty caused by the situation in the Middle East are somewhat clouding the outlook. We forecast Finland's GDP to grow by more than 1 percent this year, with the pace of growth accelerating further in 2027.

- Growth in housing prices in Finland has been modest over the past 15 years, with the index showing an increase of c. 30% between 2005 and 2025, whereas in Sweden and Norway, housing prices have nearly tripled during the same period. In Denmark, housing price development has been moderate in long-term but has surpassed Finland in recent years.

GROWTH IN EARNINGS IN LINE WITH THE GROWTH IN HOUSE PRICES[1]

Real housing price index and earnings level index

PRICE DEVELOPMENT EXPECTED TO TURN POSITIVE IN 2026[2]

Price index of old dwellings

- During the last 20 years housing prices, and the earnings level have increased steadily and in parallel with one another. Since 2022, higher interest rates and inflation have pressured housing prices, and despite easing macro conditions, demand remains subdued due to weak consumer confidence.
- S-Bank anticipates a pickup in market activity and a gradual shift toward positive price development in the near term. According to the bank's forecast, prices of old dwellings nationwide declined by 2.5% in 2025. Prices are expected to continue to fall by 1.5% in 2026, before returning to growth of 2.5% in 2027.
- The Helsinki area has outperformed the rest of the country in housing price growth, driven by favourable demographics and ongoing urbanization, while national price levels have remained broadly stable due to weaker or declining development in rural areas.

OWN FUNDS AND CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS (EUR m)

- S-Bank's total risk exposure amount (TREA) increased by EUR 62.4 million during the review period and totalled to EUR 4 191.4 million (4 129.0). In addition, increases in defaulted exposures and investments further contributed to the growth in credit risk RWA.
- S-Bank's own funds and eligible liabilities exceeded both regulatory requirements and internal limits for MREL. MREL TREA was at 38.7%, and MREL LRE at 11.6%.
- The latest MREL decision and the one in force was given on 19 March 2026. According to the decision the requirement based on total risk exposure amount is 21.91 per cent, with a combined buffer requirement of 3.52 per cent as of June 2026.
