COMMENTARY

The Finnish economy is recovering from a temporary recession that occurred between 2023 and 2024. During this period, export markets experienced slower growth, while higher prices and interest rates impacted private consumption and investments. However, signs of recovery are emerging, with growth expected to pick up due to rising domestic demand. Both inflation and interest rates have decreased from their recent peaks, improving the purchasing power of households and businesses. S-Bank views stronger purchasing power, stabilizing employment, and easing inflation as key indicators of recovery and forecasts GDP growth of 0,7% in 2025 and 1.8% in 2026.

NORDIC HOUSING MARKET

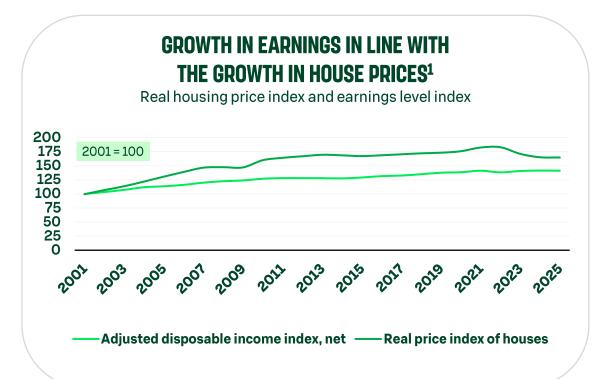

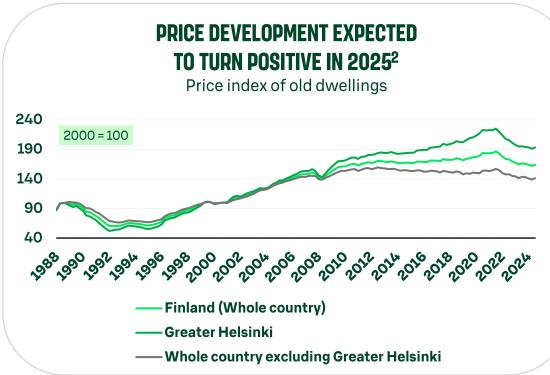

- Growth in housing prices in Finland has been modest over the past 15 years, with the index showing an increase of c. 30% between 2005 and 2024, whereas in Sweden and Norway, housing prices have nearly tripled during the same period. In Denmark, housing price development has been moderate in long-term but has surpassed Finland in recent years.
- Finnish households are the least leveraged in the Nordics. In 2023, indebtedness of Finnish households stood at around 150% of net disposable income, significantly lower compared to the other Nordic countries.

FINNISH HOUSING MARKET – PRICE CORRECTION EASING

- During the last 20 years housing prices, and the earnings level have increased steadily and in parallel with one another. Starting from 2022, housing prices have been under pressure due to higher interest rates and inflation. Both interest rates and inflation has eased since, but housing market demand still suffers from weak consumer confidence.
- S-Bank anticipates a pickup in market activity and a shift toward positive price development in the near future. According to the bank's forecast, prices for old dwellings nationwide are expected to remain stable in 2025, followed by a 2.5% increase in both 2026 and 2027.
- The Helsinki area's housing market has diverged from the rest of the country with significantly faster price appreciation the main drivers are favourable demographics and the continuing trend in urbanisation. The national price average has maintained a somewhat stable level during last 10-year period, as price development in rural areas has been more restrained or even declining.

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK: HOUSEHOLDS NOT YET ENCOURAGED TO CONSUME

OUTLOOK FOR 2025 UNCHANGED

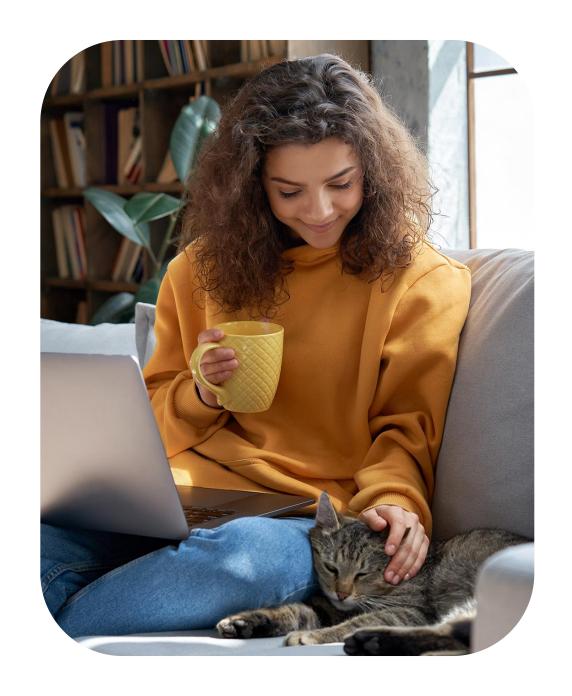

We expect S-Bank's operating profit for the whole year to decline to under EUR 100 million.

Declining interest rates and the penalty payment imposed on the bank have a negative impact on the bank's financial performance, even though the Handelsbanken transaction will increase the bank's earnings.

In addition, the investments related to implementing our strategy will remain at a high level.

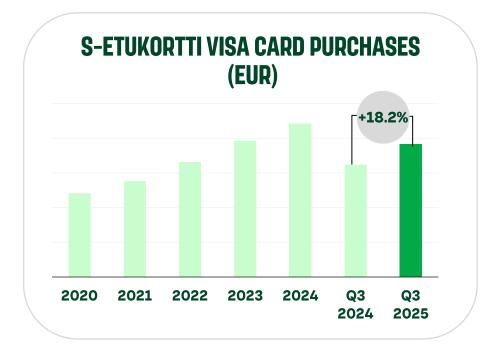

The outlook for 2025 is still subject to uncertainties regarding the operating environment, geopolitical tensions, the economy, employment and the real estate market.

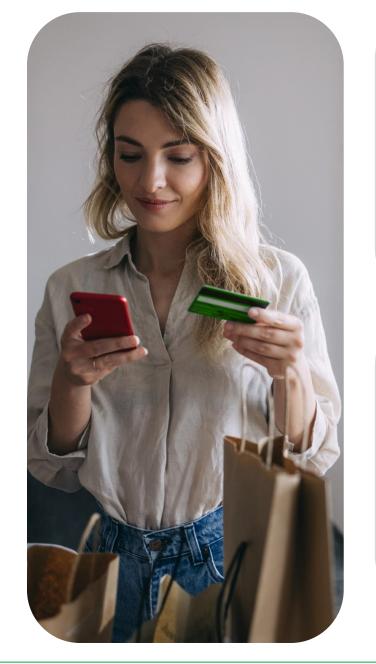

The scale of the change is impacted by the one-off negative goodwill related to the Handelsbanken transaction, which was recognised as income in 2024.

DEVELOPMENT OF KEY INCOME MEASURES

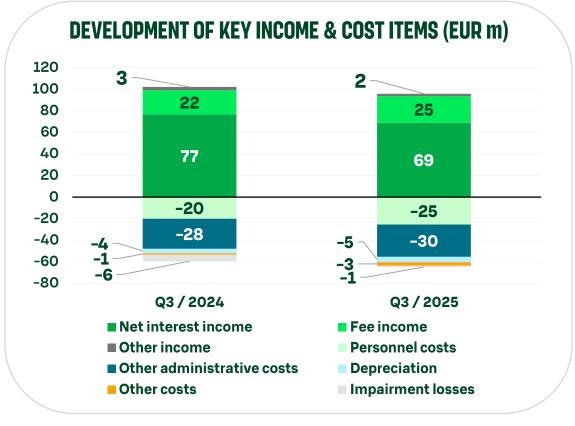

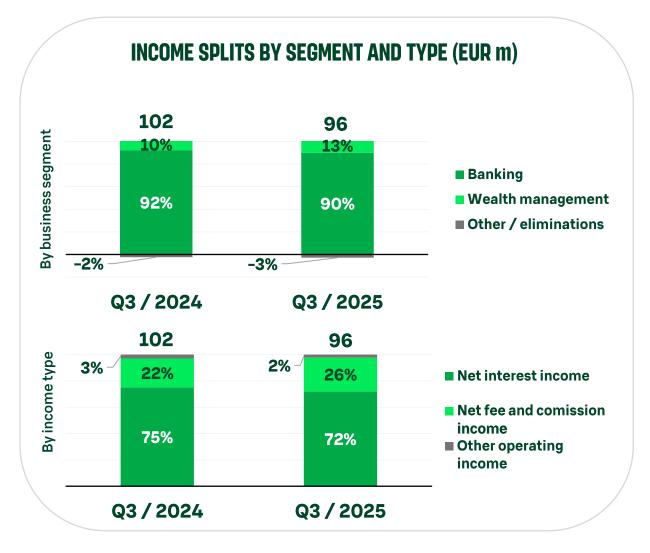

- In Q3/2025 total income was EUR 96 million which continued very moderate downward trend in total income due to interest rate cuts.
- In recent quarters net interest income has remained relatively stable and it totalled EUR 69 million in Q3/2025. SHB-deal volume and organic retail deposit growth have supported net interest income against interest rate cuts during 2025.
- In Q3/2025 fee income was EUR 25 million and increased slightly when comparing to previous quarters. From YoY-perspective SHB-deal volumes increased fee income especially in wealth management but termination of cash services collaboration and specific card type fees affected fee income growth negatively.

The change was due to an increase in the number of personnel and IT-costs. 1,8 million sanction from data protection office also increased costs in Q3/2025. Operating expenses and net credit losses were lower than in previous guarters, which delivered improved profitability.
